THAW'S LAWYERS, SPARRING FOR TIME, DELAY CASE A WEEK

Wait Till Wednesday to Go to Court With Habeas Corpus Writ That Likely Will Set Him Free, Thus Blocking Officers Who Want to Deport Prisoner.

SISTER, WITH HER HUSBAND, JOINS THAW

Ottawa Authorities Advise Acting Gov. Glynn They Will Exert Every Effort to Turn Over the Fugitive to New York State.

SHERBROOKE, QUEBEC, AUG. 21—

After an all-night conference, counsel for Harry A. Thaw announced this morning that they would not produce the Mattawan fugitive in the Superior Court today on the writ of habeas corpus obtained yesterday.

They explained the writ is returnable at any time and, although at 10 a. m. today had been agreed tentatively yesterday, they had decided to delay proceedings pending further conferences.

Thaw's lawyers agreed this afternoon to have Thaw arraigned on the habeas corpus writ at 10 a. m. Wednesday, thus delaying the case almost a week.

Superior Judge Globensky was sought by the immigration officials and the officers from New York to insist on the service of the writ, ostensibly returnable forthwith, but the court held that Thaw's lawyers were within their rights.

This morning of time by the defense was due mainly to the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, brother-in-law and sister of the prisoner, who are anxious that no court step be taken until every bulwark of defense has been strengthened.

The move came as a surprise to the immigration officials and to District Attorney Conger and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess County, N. Y. They had expected that Thaw would be arraigned before noon today, released on the present commitment, and then held as an undesirable alien and quickly deported.

Another theory advanced was that counsel for Thaw would attempt to show that he had a through ticket to Detroit and would demand that he be taken there and released. A third conjecture was that the whole proceedings would be transferred to Montreal, where the case would be thrashed out before a special board of inquiry.

Thaw was in varying moods today. After arising, his sister said he was "grumpy," but he was all smiles after talking with his sister, Margaret, and her husband and receiving assurances from them that the family would stand behind him morally and financially.

When they went he resumed pacing the corridor of the hospital ward. He stopped occasionally to jot down a note, apparently intended for the assistance of his lawyers. At noon he had not heard from his lawyers, and apparently was unable to understand the delay in having him brought to court.

He explained that "all will depend on the outcome of circumstances. I hope to make a good statement soon. I have a long story to tell when the time comes."

Owing to the errors in the papers committing Thaw to jail, he is safe there for an indefinite period, as no date for the hearing of his case was mentioned in them. While in jail Thaw is also safe, as the Immigration Department, which has no power over him.

MANY OF OUR RUNABOUT CITIZENS HAVE BEEN TURNED INTO ROADBLOCKS

"Well, fall is at hand," said Mrs. W., at the breakfast table.

"Why, I think it is still pretty warm," said Mr. W.

"You men don't know how to keep cool. I was delightedly comfortable when I was downtown yesterday afternoon."

"You don't say so?"

"Yes, they've got the latest models of fall and winter coats in the show windows and the fur stores are all displaying the loveliest mink and beaver fur muffs and boas. They suggested wintry days and it made me feel cool to look at them."

"And it makes me shiver to think of them. Which will you want first—a fall coat or a new set of furs?"

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Fair tonight and tomorrow, lower temperature tomorrow afternoon or night.

Illinois: Fair, except probably local thunderstorms tonight or tomorrow; cooler tomorrow.

BELLEVEILLE PROSECUTOR MISTAKEN FOR LABORER

One of Belleville's Oldest Citizens Tries to Hire A. B. Davis to Do 25-Cent Job.

State's Attorney A. B. Davis of St. Clair County was mistaken Thursday morning for a laborer by Nick Cress, a teamster, and one of the oldest and best known characters in Belleville.

Davis had returned from a two days' automobile trip to Chester. He was dressed in old clothing and needed a shave. When he started to cross Illinois street he met Cress, who was driving a wagon.

"Say, you," yelled Cress, "I'll give you a quarter if you'll help me unload these barrels."

"I haven't this morning," said the State's Attorney.

"That's the way with you fellows," grumbled Cress. "You are always squawking about being out of a job and when you get a chance to work you won't do it."

A half hour later Cress and Davis were introduced to each other.

FILM SHOWS PRESIDENT "SCOUTING" WITH BOYS

Reel of 8000 Feet Depicts Wilson Directing Boy Scouts at Work

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Probably the eight proudest boys in the United States today are to be found in a local organization of Boy Scouts, for they will go down to posterity in the "movies" scouting with President Wilson in the White House grounds.

The film in which they will appear is 8000 feet long, the longest yet made with the exception of one production.

The moving pictures, which are intended to advance the Boy Scout movement, were taken yesterday. The President will be shown welcoming the boys and shaking hands with them, after which he will be depicted watching and directing the youngsters in some of their scout work.

The picture operators this week will visit Camp Archibald Butt, near the Capital, where the Boy Scouts are spending the summer.

MILITANT TACTICS IN STATE SUFFRAGE CAMPAIGN TABOO

Missouri Leaders Assured Men Will Grant Vote if Demonstrations Are Forbidden.

WORK WILL START SEPT. 1

Mrs. Kneifer on Tour Found Opposition, Not to Vote, but to English Methods.

The Missouri man is so approachable and so receptive of reasonable argument that the State leaders in the campaign for "votes for women" will not resort to spectacular demonstrations or any other form of militancy in an effort to get his support for the proposed amendment, which is to be submitted to the voters next year.

The campaign will be opened formally Sept. 1, when Mrs. Walter McNabb Miller starts on a speech-making tour of the northern part of the State.

The workers now are circulating petitions for the necessary 25,000 signatures to have the proposed amendment submitted by the initiative and are holding meetings twice a month at which they discuss plans for the campaign.

The most recent meeting was Tuesday night at the Y. W. C. A.

The women do not say they intend to use flattery or palaver to gain their point, but use the word diplomacy. Not even a suspicion of militancy will be permitted to creep into their work, say the members of the State Suffrage League, St. Louis Suffrage League and A. B. Davis Women's Suffrage Association. They will use only diplomacy and the most refined political methods.

When Mrs. Dan W. Kneifer, former secretary of the State League, returned from a four months' trip through the State in April, she had informed her co-workers that she had assured the audiences she had addressed that the cause will be well supported by the voters of Missouri. There was only one obstacle to be overcome, she said, and that was a fear on the part of Missouri's sons that Missouri's daughters might resort to militant tactics in an effort to win suffrage.

The men of Missouri, Mrs. Kneifer said she had been told, would not tolerate aggressiveness on the part of the women. They want to be approached in a "friendly" manner and given an opportunity to quietly think the matter over. They do not want bonfires, street parades, cannonading or any other of the noisy or spectacular stunts so dear to the hearts of the militants.

Mrs. Kneifer told her friends that all her work with women has been done in contact on her trip wanted to know why the women of the United States had seen fit to follow the example of their sisters in England by giving that "big parade" in Washington. What did they expect to accomplish by such a display, she was asked, and she was informed that the men of Missouri do not have to have political arguments presented to them in such comic opera style.

"I'll be in a nice, quiet way to let you vote and the chances are 100 to 1 that we will grant your request," Mrs. Kneifer said she was told. "There does not seem to be any opposition in Missouri to equal suffrage. But, for mercy's sake, don't make a mistake of yourselves."

So the active workers in the movement put their heads together, considered what Mrs. Kneifer had told them, and decided to have a safe and sane campaign.

Miss Clara Somerville, acting secretary of the State League in Mrs. Kneifer's absence, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday that the only demonstration to be made by the suffragists in the coming campaign will be at the State Fair in Sedalia the first week in October.

"But it will be an orderly demonstration," she said. "When the suffrage question is submitted to the voters of the Constitution in 1914, there will be possibility of objection on the ground that we have been militant. We have decided to remain in our shells, as it were, and, mushroomlike, grow silently over night."

THERMOMETER IN KIOSK REMOVED, BUT HEAT REMAINS

Removal of Instrument Because of Solicitous St. Louisans Does Not Lower Temperatures.

IS TESTED IN WASHINGTON

Experts Want to See if It Has Been Falsifying About Local Weather.

"The moving finger writes, and having writ, moves on." So Col. O. Khayyam once remarked, in an age before thermographs had been invented, and in a climate where weather kiosks would be superfluous.

But the Colonel knew what he was talking about, just as well as if he had been one of the crowd that, until a few days ago, regularly gathered around the little glass cone in Courthouse Square to watch the moving finger of the Weather Bureau thermometer. For having "writ" the highest temperatures of the hottest days St. Louis has seen in a dozen seasons, the instrument, flatter and all, has moved on to Washington.

Thursday those who looked for the interesting little mechanism, with its 24-hour ink tracing of the temperature on a chart graded down to fractions of degrees, saw only a precipitation gauge, with a bright brass band pointing to 0, and a humidity register, which showed a percentage of 48. On the other side of the kiosk were maps, charts and colored post card views showing cloud effects.

It's Just as Hot, However.

The thermometer has been sent to Washington, and it will not be back in time to tell any more about St. Louis heat this season. But those who walked along Broadway remarked that the heat was no less, and the temperature showing of private thermometers no more modest, than while the instrument was in its place.

Since the thermometer was removed the kiosk frequenters have been asking questions, most of them beginning with the word "Who?" or the equally pertinent word "Why?" The first question was generally answered with the statement that the Business Men's League had complained about the instrument.

Five Men Make Issue.

But W. F. Saunders, secretary of the League, said Thursday that this was all a mistake. He said that last June five St. Louisans, Luther Ely Smith, O'Neill Ryan, A. W. Douglas, Herbert C. Galt and Attorney John L. McNab brought the Diggs-Cammetti cases into national prominence by accusing the Attorney General's office of having delayed the trial for political reasons.

DIGGS CONVICTED, MAXIMUM PENALTY CAN BE 20 YEARS

Sentence to Be Announced Sept. 2 — Gives $20,000 Bond Pending Appeal.

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21.—With Maury I. Diggs convicted and awaiting sentence for having violated the Mann act in transporting Marsha Warrington from Sacramento, Cal., to Reno, Nev., for immoral purposes, the Government turned its attention today to Diggs' companion in flight, F. Drew Cammetti, indicted for the same offense for having taken Lola Norris to Reno.

Diggs, who was visibly affected by the jury's verdict last night, was released at midnight on $20,000 bail, furnished by his father, I. P. Diggs, and his uncle, Marshall Diggs. He will be sentenced to the penitentiary on Sept. 2.

U. S. AND MEXICO IN DEADLOCK OVER PLANS FOR PEACE

President Wilson Unalterably Opposed to Recognition of the Huerta Government, Which Is the Chief Demand Made by the Provisional Executive.

White House to Make Statement Giving Substance of U. S. Note Carried by John Lind and Reply, Rejecting Mediation.

Senate Asked to Direct President to Send U. S. Troops Across Line and Provide $25,000,000 for Them.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Administration officials though not entirely without hope of an amicable understanding, are inclined to believe that the negotiations between John Lind and Provisional President Huerta had almost reached a deadlock.

Huerta demands immediate recognition and President Wilson is absolutely and firmly against it. Within a day or two, it was said, at the White House today, an announcement would be made clarifying the situation. In all likelihood, the American note and the Huerta answer will be published simultaneously.

It is now understood that Lind's supplementary negotiations while personally cordial, have availed nothing. Officials today were not sanguine that Huerta would recede and the disposition was to make public the attitude of the United States, as expressed in its note.

While Lind's mission is conceded in official circles to have been a failure so far as its effect on the Mexican Government is concerned, administration officials believe it accomplished a great deal. Foreign Governments, they think, now have been assured of the efforts of the United States to bring about peace, and have been assured for the failure of the effort they place upon the inability of Provisional President Huerta to understand the viewpoint of the Washington Government, conceiving that partisan politics is a factor in the situation.

Senator Charles McNary, Republican, member of the Foreign Relations Committee, talked briefly with the President today about the situation, declaring afterward he was doing all he could to uphold the hands of the President. He was informed of the progress of Lind's negotiations, but declined to predict what the next step would be.

President Wilson's disposition is said to be to make known to Congress exactly what has been attempted through Lind's mission, proclaim the aims of the administration and let things in Mexico take their course, leaving drastic measures to be considered only when American lives are in danger.

Suggestions that a military demonstration on the Mexican border and a naval demonstration along the Pacific and Atlantic coasts of Mexico would influence better protection for Americans in case of emergencies, have been made to the administration.

Pearson Asks for Troops.

American troops for police duty in Mexico for protection of American lives and property and an emergency appropriation of $25,000,000 to be expended under the direction of the President for that purpose, were proposed in a resolution today by Senator Pearson. He did not ask the Senate to pass his resolution today and it went over.

The resolution specifically declared that "it is not the policy of the Government of the United States to recognize or to assist any faction or factions in the republic of Mexico."

A concerted effort on the part of Republicans and Democrats to support President Wilson in his Mexican policy and to carry to the world the definite idea that the President has the full support of the American people at once became apparent.

Introduction of the resolution was followed by a general demand on the part of the Republicans, seconded by Chairman Bacon of the Foreign Relations Committee, for a cessation of all debate and to support President Wilson.

Emphatic and concerted declarations from Senators and Representatives of confidence in the wisdom and good faith of the President were plainly an answer to reports from Mexico that Huerta was contending that the President had a divided Congress and a divided public opinion behind him.

With England President.

"It is our duty to uphold the hand of the President," said Senator Sutherland, Republican. "It is the part of patriotism and good sense to withhold any criticism until the situation has clarified. Until then we should stand firmly behind the President, uphold him in his negotiations and not embarrass him. For one, I propose to do this."

Senators Lodge, Gallinger, Nelson, Bacon and other Republicans joined in a definite expression of their belief that the Senate should give the world by resolution to support the President's mission and not embarrass him.

Senator Pearson said he had been assured that the President would support the mission and not embarrass him.

BROKEN-HEARTED MAN KILLS SELF IN CARONDELET PARK

Rudolph Schneebeli, 56, Leaves Note Asking That "Mary" Be Kept From Seeing Boy.

Leaving a note, in which he asked that his daughter Mary be not allowed to look at his body because she had broken his heart, Rudolph Schneebeli, 56 years old, a widower who lived at 312 St. Vincent avenue, shot and killed himself on a bench in Lafayette Park Thursday morning.

The body was found at 9 a. m. by James Koupal, a park keeper. The bullet had entered the man's left breast, passed entirely through the body and was lodged in a fence behind him. The pistol was not found, but the police believe somebody found it and carried it away.

The note, which was addressed to his daughter, Mary Maude Fichtenmeyer, with whom he lived, was found in a memorandum book in the man's pocket. The police say Schneebeli had been employed in the city water department two years and that he suffered severely from rheumatism. They say also that his wife died in an asylum two years ago.

Mrs. Fichtenmeyer told a Post-Dispatch reporter that her husband left home Wednesday evening for a walk and never returned. The Mary referred to in the note is his daughter, Mary Schatte, who, according to Mrs. Fichtenmeyer, is separated from her husband, Martin Schatte. Mrs. Fichtenmeyer said her father and Mary often quarreled, but she would not say what they quarreled about. The Albert mentioned in the note is a son of Schneebeli.

JOLO GOVERNOR ATTACKED, KILLS TWO ASSAILANTS

duced the resolution in good faith, believing something must be done to stop "anarchy, robbery and molestation" against the American people.

The only exception to the Republican attitude of suppressing the Mexican debate was Senator Fall, who said he believed the discussion should not be stopped.

Senator Kern, Democrat, read a recent speech by Charles W. Fairbanks, former Republican Vice-President, urging all to uphold the hands of President Wilson.

"I think the Mexican people should know," said Senator Kern, "that in a threatening situation like this the American people stand together like a stone wall."

Says Americans Are Within Rights.

"The administration has asked for $100,000 to take Americans out of Mexico," said Senator Penrose after announcing he would not discuss his resolution. "I think they have a right to be there under our treaties and under international law. We have no right to attempt to break up their homes and occupations. Rather than appropriate this pittance of $100,000 to make this wholesale removal, I would appropriate this $25,000,000 to keep them where they are and to protect them."

The Penrose resolution draws attention to the Monroe Doctrine and to the possibility that continued destruction of property in Mexico would "involve international complications and intervention by European nations."

Penrose long has been known as a corporation man. He was shown in the 1912 campaign to have received $25,000 in 1904 from the Standard Oil Co.

Penrose's home is in Philadelphia. His brothers, Spencer of Colorado Springs and Richard Alexander of Philadelphia, are eminent mining engineers. Spencer is a director of many Colorado and Utah mining companies and Colorado banks. He was a Colonel on the staff of Gov. Peabody of Colorado, who conducted the famous war against the Western Federation of Miners.

PRESIDENT STILL HAS THREE PLANS FOR MEXICO PEACE

Return to Old Policy of Non-interference Is One Likely to Be Adopted.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The developments out of which has come the almost definite decision of President Wilson to return to a non-interference are of three days. Ever since Monday there has been little hope that the mission of Commissioner Lind would bear fruit. What little hope there was, however, ended last night when the full report of the Huerta note was digested by the President and his advisers.

When President Wilson sent Commissioner Lind to Mexico with three suggestions for settling the disturbances he had in reserve three alternatives which he could adopt in the event of failure, they were:

1. Intervention.
2. Raising the embargo against the revolutionists obtaining arms and ammunition in the United States.
3. A return to the former policy of non-interference, always entertaining the hope that one side would quickly win in the struggle of arms.

Like his predecessor, President Wilson never did seriously consider the first alternative. He held that it was too drastic a remedy for the ailment. After going over the reports of the State Department he found that so far as the killing of Americans was concerned, there had not been a sufficient disregard of the safety of foreigners on the part of either of the factions in Mexico to justify intervention.

Can Collect Damages Claimed.

He found that with two or three exceptions all the Americans killed in Mexico had lost their lives through some overt act on their part. A few, less than half a dozen, had been accidentally killed. The most reports showed was a wholesale pillage and destruction of property. The remedy for this, the President decided, was not intervention, as under international law, all claims for damages can be collected without resort to arms.

After viewing and reviewing all this, the President cast aside every thought of urging intervention.

He next gave consideration, it is said, to the proposal of raising the embargo against the revolutionists from obtaining arms and ammunition in the United States. What he found was this: All the foreign governments having property interests in Mexico have recognized Huerta. These countries have been asked by the United States to lend their moral support to induce Huerta to accept one of the three proposals for mediation. All had been asked to do so, but the United States took no action in Mexico without fully acquainting them with it, and that no step would be taken which was contrary to international law and diplomatic procedure.

To lift the embargo and to permit the insurgents to obtain arms and ammunition in the United States without restriction would mean, the President found, that there would be just cause for complaint on the part of those countries.

It would mean that the insurgents could fortify themselves and could carry on indefinitely a warfare such as they have maintained for the last six months, but with no hope to capture the capital and all hope of ending the disturbances would be remote. This too, was put aside.

Proposals by Wilson.

The proposals of the Washington Government which Mexico rejected in toto were:

First, complete cessation of hostilities; second, that President Huerta resign in favor of a President ad interim; third, the fixing of an early date for the presidential elections; and fourth, that Gen. Huerta should not be a candidate for the presidency.

An additional feature of the American note was the request for a reply to the question as to what, in the opinion of Gen. Huerta, the present conditions were due to and what the remedy.

Huerta almost invariably refers to the present United States administration as a temporary one; suggests that it will be defeated in the next election, and, therefore, the people of the United

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.

THE claims of the American Government and the Mexican Government as to conditions in Mexico and the reasons of President Wilson for not recognizing Huerta and the latter's reasons why he should be recognized are:

THAT at the time he deposed Madero and turned traitor, the Mexican republic was without a Government, its President and Vice-President were under siege and it was necessary to make a deal with the besiegers to save the republic.

That he succeeded to the provisional presidency automatically by the resignation of two of Madero's Cabinet after the death of Madero and Suarez, he being the Minister of War.

That the House of Deputies elected him the constitutional President of Mexico in regular session.

That but a small portion of the republic of Mexico is in revolt and that if given moral support, such as recognition by the American Government would bring, he would be able to raise money and put down the rebellion.

That most of the armed opposition in the Northern States is banditti and is being influenced and financed by the Madero family and their followers.

That the only serious revolt is in the State of Sonora.

United States.

CONDITIONS in Mexico are chaotic. Huerta, the provisional President of Mexico, controls the Federal district which is much like the District of Columbia, three states and a small part of two others. The balance of the country is either in the control of the revolutionists or the control is in dispute, and about which there is continual warfare.

President Wilson refuses to recognize Huerta because he believes he succeeded to the presidency by assassination and treachery and has never been elected by the people or endorsed by them. Since the death of Madero, Huerta has been opposed by more than half the republic. This opposition has been in the nature of armed revolt. Huerta's claim that he is President is a subterfuge.

President Wilson bases his action on the reports on file in the State Department received from American officials in Mexico. These reports state that the election of Huerta by the House of Deputies was the result of coercion, that Huerta kept posted about the chamber in which the members of the House met an armed force and in this manner compelled the members to vote for Huerta for President.

States are not supporting the President in his mediation plan. Huerta made it plain, too, that he considered he had been recognized. He made reference to a speech Henry Lane Wilson, removed as Ambassador to Mexico, had made in April.

The present administration proposes to defer recognition until a constitutional election shall have been held. From these considerations, it is not likely that Lind's formal parleys with the Huerta officials will continue long. He will remain in Mexico City indefinitely, however, as the adviser to the American embassy, which is without an Ambassador. He will continue to make reports in the situation to President Wilson and retain, so far as possible, cordial relations with the de facto government for the purpose of obtaining proper protection to American interests.

Paris Bankers Doubt Story of $200,000,000 Loan to Huerta.

PARIS, Aug. 21.—No confirmation can be obtained here of the report from Mexico City that bankers of Paris and other European capitals have made an offer to President Huerta to float a new loan of $200,000,000. On the contrary, the report is not believed by the Bankers de Paris et Pays Bas, which took a leading part in the previous loan to the Mexican Government. The story is also discredited by the banking house of Lazard Freres.

The French Foreign Office, it appears, continues to take the attitude that it would be unwise for French bankers to lend money to the Mexican Government until the United States has recognized it. While French bankers were not obliged to observe the Foreign Office suggestions, it is usual for them to follow hints of this sort.

LAWYER MENTIONED IN CRONIN MURDER DIES

Efforts Were Made to Involve Alexander Sullivan in Case, but They Failed.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—Alexander Sullivan, a Chicago lawyer, who was at the head of the Clan-Na-Gael at the time of the murder of Dr. Cronin, a case which attracted world-wide attention, died here today, aged 65.

In 1912 Sullivan was defendant in a sensational trial, being accused of the murder of Francis Hanford, a school principal. Sullivan shot down Hanford on the street. In his defense he swore Hanford had insulted Mrs. Sullivan and he was acquitted.

Although he was chief of the Clan-Na-Gael in the United States, a persistent effort was made to involve him in the Cronin murder, he was never indicted.

But Wife Drives Him Insane.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 21.—A rat bite worried Mrs. Cronin, 33 years old, so much that it drove him insane and he ended his life by jumping into the river. Four days ago Monck was bitten and he did not sleep or eat up to the time of his death.

FIVE SHOTS FIRED NEAR WAITERS' HEADQUARTERS

Police Find No Evidence of Fight—Blacked-Up Waiters Arrested at Faust's.

Five revolver shots fired near Seventh and Pine streets at 2 a. m. Thursday caused somebody to telephone to the police that there was a fight and shooting affray at the St. Louis Waiters' Benevolent Association, 264 1/2 North Seventh street.

Detective Sergeant Chisler found several waiters in the place, but no excitement, and the men denied the shots had been fired there. A patrolman, who ran from Seventh and Market streets, said he thought the shots were fired from an automobile which sped rapidly west on Pine street.

Two waiters blacked up as negroes and dressed in extravagant minstrel garments were arrested at 11 p. m. Wednesday at Faust's cafe when they raised a disturbance after the bartender had refused to serve drinks to them while garbed as negroes. They are James Scully of 234 North Virginia avenue and John T. Green of Venice, Ill. Frank Toba, a waiter living at 278 Olive street, who accompanied them, was arrested. All gave bond and were released.

When the police arrived at the cafe the men resisted arrest and two of the waiters were knocked down.

An hour before that Green was arrested at Ninth and Pine streets on the complaint of J. W. Milam of 1484 1/2 Clara avenue, who said Green called him vile names. He was charged with disturbing the peace.

MAN AND WOMAN MARRIED TO EACH OTHER 11 TIMES

Each Ceremony Performed in Different Country—First in Ohio in 1909.

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 21.—To be married to each other 11 times since 1909 has been the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon, who are at Braddock Heights. The marriage ceremonies have been performed in 11 countries. Asked why he and his wife had been married so often, Vernon said they took the step as a precaution because in some countries marriages performed in others are not recognized.

He and his wife were married first in Columbus, O., in 1909, then in Montreal in 1910; in England, Scotland, Wales, France, Germany, Belgium and Russia in 1911; in Sydney, Australia, in 1912; and in Vera Cruz, Mex., in 1913. They have marriage certificates of all their weddings.

In some of the countries they did not understand a word the clergyman was saying, but nodded their heads

MILK SICKNESS EPIDEMIC

DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 21.—Milk sickness, a disease that typified Danville and Vermilion County, immediately following the Civil War, causing hundreds of deaths, has made its appearance here again. More than twenty are ill and one death, that of Roy Cox, is reported. Mrs. Cox is not expected to live.

The State Board of Health will be asked to investigate. Doctors assert the disease is communicated through cows which have eaten some poisonous weed

LEAD BELT MINERS CONCEDE POINT; END OF STRIKE IN SIGHT

Western Federation Agrees With Operators to Eliminate Question of Recognition.

CONFERENCE ON WAGES

Agreement on Raise of 35 Cents a Day Expected—Absent Board Member Criticized.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FARMINGTON, Mo., Aug. 21.—When representatives of the 8000 striking members of the Western Federation of Miners concurred this morning, in secret session with the operators and Board of Mediation, to eliminate the question of union recognition from the controversy, it was announced that an agreement was expected momentarily, and that the only difference now existing was as to the raise in wages.

The strikers were holding firm for their original demand of 50 cents per day increase, with the operators offering 35 cents. A compromise around 35 cents is expected.

Should the strike be settled today, it is believed that a full force of power-house and pump men will at once return to work and begin clearing the workings of water, so that actual mining can be resumed quickly. It will be several months, however, before all of the shafts can be operated.

Chairman Dwyer announced this morning that he had received a letter from Philip Toll of Kansas City, the absent member of the board, in which Toll said that he was "busy" and could not attend the sessions of the board. Toll represents the interests of employers. He was notified to attend the first meeting here last Saturday and has been awaited daily since.

Dwyer criticized Toll in a statement at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the board and said that he was disgusted because of the prolonged absence of Toll who, he said, should have been present several days ago, especially since every day of the strike was costing operators and miners approximately $100,000.

Hungarian Strikers Hold Up County

FLAT RIVER, Mo., Aug. 21.—In their rounds of the lead belt last night, Sheriff Williams and Prosecuting Attorney Benham were held up near the St. Louis Smelting and Refining Co. offices by a mob of Hungarian strikers, who compelled the two officers to get out of their automobile.

The Hungarians were unable to speak English and after a futile parley, Williams and Benham decided to make a fight. Williams stopped to the automobile and obtained his revolver from the seat. When he leveled it at the foreigners they scattered, although most of them were armed.

Williams and Benham gave pursuit and fired several shots. The foreigners disappeared quickly and the officers continued their patrol. Sheriff Williams said today that the American miners have been very quiet since the strike began, and only the foreigners who defy the union officials, have given any trouble.

counts in the indictment and not on others.

Judge Van Fleet instructed them to make their finding on those counts as to which they were agreed.

A verdict of guilty on any one count, he said, would be a verdict of guilty of violating the statute and would carry the penalty imposed by the statute.

"Well, if we find him guilty on some counts and a majority is of the opinion he is guilty on the remainder of the counts, may we return a verdict of guilty on all counts?" asked the foreman.

"No," said Judge Van Fleet. "Each count is a separate charge and the decision on each must be made separately."

Foreman Blich then asked for a few more minutes and the jury again withdrew.

Nine ballots taken, and from the first the jurors were unanimous for conviction on the first four counts, but on the fifth, charging the defendant with persuading, advising and inducing Marsha Warrington to go from Sacramento to Reno for immoral purposes, and on the sixth, charging the same offense with respect to Lola Norris, they were obstinately disagreed.

Counsel for the defense announced that they would appeal to the highest court in the land and asked for 10 days in which to petition for a writ of error to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

SHE GIVES HUSBAND 2 WEEKS' TRIAL BEFORE RECONCILIATION

MRS. O.A. CLEMEN.

DROPS ALIENATION SUIT; WIFE PUTS HIM ON PROBATION

Oscar Clemen Apologizes to Man He Accused of Dancing Low Flung Steps With Her.

After Oscar A. Clemen of 5004A Delaware boulevard, special agent for a refrigerator company, had put down his $20,000 alienation suit against John Guber, a structural iron work superintendent, late Wednesday afternoon, he told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he and his wife, Lucille, had been reconciled.

While Clemen was talking to the reporter at the home of his mother-in-law, Martha Largent, where he and his wife make their home, Mrs. Clemen came downstairs.

"We haven't been reconciled at all," she said. "We are both staying here until the suit is dropped. I have put Oscar on two weeks' probation. I haven't forgiven him for filing that alienation suit and saying in his petition that I danced low-flung dances with Mr. Guber."

A stipulation for the dismissal of the alienation suit against Guber was filed during the afternoon. It was signed by Clemen, his attorney, P. P. Mason, and Guber's attorney, A. R. Grund.

A letter of apology written by Clemen was made public by Grund. It read: "I had this petition against the defendant filed on hearsay evidence. After a thorough investigation I find the defendant is innocent of what I charged him with and he has not been guilty of any action not becoming a gentleman."

"I make this statement over my signature for the reason that I feel it my duty as a man to clear the good name and reputation of the defendant, and to show I hold him blameless for any action I accused him of."

GIRL WHO ACCUSED BIXBY ARRESTED WITH MAN

Chief Witness Against Long Beach Millionaire Found in Hall in Early Morning.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 21.—Helen Cleo Barker, whose testimony before a grand jury several months ago was largely responsible for indictments pending against George H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire, charging him with contributing to her delinquency, was arrested early today in a downtown hall with S. P. Rowland, a real estate dealer of this city. Both were held in jail pending investigation.

As a sequel to the indictment of Bixby, he was made defendant in a suit for $50,000 damages brought by Miss Barker, because of indignities she alleged she suffered at his hands.

AGREES TO GET BOY RELEASED BY 'PULL' AND OBTAINS $35

Man Gets Money From Father of Boy Accused of Theft, but Fails to Deliver.

A man who represented himself as having "great influence with the criminal courts and the police" obtained $35 from Joseph Vishneau, a carpenter and the father of nine children, living at 1220 North Fourteenth street, by pretending that he could obtain the release of James Vishneau, a 17-year-old son, who is in jail on a charge of stealing a bicycle. The man's failure to obtain the youth's release and his efforts to get more money caused Vishneau to report the matter to the police.

The police have submitted the case to the Prosecuting Attorney, pending their search for the man, and are trying to connect this incident with several others of a like nature complaints of which they have received in the past month.

It is possible, the police think, that a bunch of grafters are at work in the city who, by obtaining information about cases that are awaiting trial, can prey upon the relatives of prisoners by pretending to have "pull" enough to get the prisoners out.

According to Vishneau and his wife the man who swindled them claimed to have access to police and court records and said he was on such good terms at various police stations and in the courthouses in the Municipal Courts Building that he could go behind the railings and get information and favors that are denied to the general public.

James Vishneau is charged with the theft of a bicycle. His parents say he got possession of a broken bicycle and after having it mended at a cost of 75 cents, sold it for $1.50, thus making a profit of 75 cents. They said their son had informed them that the bicycle had been discarded by its original owner.

Asked $50 Retainer. Vishneau was arrested a little more than three weeks ago and a few days later a man introducing himself as Frank Patty called at the Vishneau home and said that for $50 he could get the youth out of trouble.

Patty said he would require the services of a professional bondman in order to get the prisoner out of jail without delay, and that later he would arrange to have him paroled. He told such a plausible story that Vishneau decided to enter into negotiations with him. He had no money of his own, he said, but he borrowed $50 from a neighbor and made a partial payment.

When Patty left the Vishneau home he said he would go to Henry Hennings, a saloon keeper at Jefferson avenue and Gamble street, who is a professional bondman, and have him sign a bond for the release of the prisoner. Several days later he returned and demanded $10 more. He said he was still arranging for bond and needed the additional money to retain a lawyer.

Changes His Name. Vishneau did not have the money, but said he would get it and take it to Patty's home. The man then said his name was Patty and that he lived at 1800 Wash street. Vishneau found him at that address several days later and gave him the $10.

About a week ago Patty or Patty as he called on the Vishneaus and asked for $25. When taken to task for having failed to obtain the release of young Vishneau on bond, he explained that there was "a hitch" in the matter and that "everything would come out satisfactorily."

The Vishneaus could not figure where they were going to get the money, but they told him he would accept $3, and they told him to call later. He called several times within the last week, and on two occasions sent a boy after the money, but the Vishneaus had become suspicious and decided to have nothing more to do with the mysterious man. Wednesday they reported the matter to the police.

At 1830 Wash street a Post-Dispatch reporter was informed by the landlady, Mrs. Lucinda Walker, that a couple calling themselves "Penny" or "Patty" engaged rooms from her three weeks ago and departed the latter part of last week.

Suffered Twenty-One Years—Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. The physicians called it "Mother's pain," and injections of morphine gave me only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When this same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big pea and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE, Aveyalee Park, Marksville, La.

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1913, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact. WM. MORROW, Notary Public.

PARTY'S PROMISE TO FILIPINOS TO BE CARRIED OUT

Selection of Harrison Shows Desire to Live Up to Independence Pledge.

UP TO THE NATIVES NOW

They Must Show Themselves Capable of Carrying on a Government

By Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The Senate is expected to confirm immediately the nomination of Representative Francis Burton Harrison to be Governor-General of the Philippines.

Harrison's nomination is taken to mean that President Wilson is determined that the promises of the Baltimore convention shall not be forgotten. The Democratic platform placed the party on record as favoring the independence of the Philippines just as soon as the Filipinos prove themselves capable of self-government. Harrison is an exponent of this theory.

"President Wilson's appointment came to me unexpectedly. It is a man's job and offers a great field for work," said Harrison. "While I do not care to discuss policies I am unreservedly in favor of carrying out the promises of the Baltimore platform."

The President concluded within the last three days that Harrison was the man for the post. When Representative Underwood and other House leaders were called into consultation they advised the President that he could not make a better appointment. Because of his position of ranking Democratic member of the Ways and Means Committee, there has been some doubt whether or not he would give up his career in Washington. The uncertainty whether or not Underwood would go to the Senate added to this feeling, because Harrison would be the next chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and leader of the House.

Manuel Quezon, Philippine delegate in the House, dined with Harrison last night, and discussed the situation in the islands. Quezon said he was delighted with the nomination.

"I take this to be positive proof that President Wilson is sincere in his determination, announced a short time ago, to carry out the promises of the Democratic party," Quezon said to the Post-Dispatch correspondent. "It is the first tangible proof of the President's position and my people are not a jot less enthusiastic than ever. The Democratic party is not a jot less enthusiastic than ever. The Democratic party is not a jot less enthusiastic than ever."

KATY TRAIN HITS FREIGHT AT DOCK STREET, 5 HURT

Burlington Engine and Car Overturned in Collision With Passenger—Crews Jump.

Five persons were slightly injured when a passenger train of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway crashed head-on into a freight train on the Burlington tracks at Dock street at 7:50 o'clock Wednesday night. The freight engine was overturned and one of the freight cars derailed. The crews of both trains jumped before the locomotives collided.

Norman M. Rice, 633 Church road, fireman on the passenger, fell on a pile of rocks and suffered cuts on his head, shoulder, leg and body. John Schenck, New Franklin, Mo., engineer on the passenger, was cut in the head. The right hand of Bennett Christianson, a switchman, was smashed. H. C. Smith, Sedalia, Mo., and William J. Smith, Wagoner, Ok., passengers, were thrown against broken windows and received cuts in the head.

The collision is believed to have been due to a misinterpretation of block signals. The passenger train, an hour late, was running 35 miles an hour, according to trainmen.

BOY FOUND DEAD NEAR WOUNDED SWEETHEART

Pistol by His Side and Note Indicated They Had Planned to Die Together.

YONKERS, Aug. 21.—Charles Rich, aged 19, was found dead in his 17-year-old sweetheart, Ruth Hamilton, mortally wounded early today with evidence that they had agreed to die together and that Rich had shot her and then killed himself.

A note saying: "We are going to end it all," was found at midnight on the doorstep of the home of Henry C. Morand, where Miss Hamilton lived. Shortly afterwards the Rev. J. E. Bailey telephoned to the police that Miss Hamilton had been found on his doorstep, probably dying from a bullet wound. The clergyman's daughter stumbled across the girl's form as she was returning from a reception.

"I guess he's dead in the woods," the girl moaned before she became unconscious. This clue led to the discovery of Rich's body. A revolver lay by his side.

ROBBED BY ALLEY GANG

Frank Olsen, 30 years old, of Breese, Ill., met two men in the vicinity of Fifth and Market streets about midnight Wednesday.

After insisting upon his having a drink they lured him to the alley back of 165 Washington avenue, where they said they had a regular "cave of good fellows," and where he was in good luck. Olsen said this knowledge was not long withheld.

He was chubbied over the head, knocked down and robbed of $2.

Beginning the Annual August Sale of Silks

With 26,475 Yards of Crisp, New, Fall Silks at Half the Prices You Will Pay in October and November.

The silk chief faced very discouraging conditions in preparing for the August Silk Sale.

Silk weavers' strike—dyers' strike—scarcity and rising prices of raw silks and a bigger demand than ever for Silks of all kinds and from every source!

But the silk chief, undaunted, was highly successful, all things considered, in getting the above yardage of finest Fall and Winter Silks from leading Fifth Avenue dressmakers' and tailors' supply houses, from Silk jobbers and importers of finest Silks. Many of the lots consist of sample pieces, "warps" and broken assortments that were not considered large enough to sample to the outside trade, and it is for these reasons that in the face of most discouraging conditions in the Silk market in many years, we are able to offer values of an extraordinary nature.

STATE UNIVERSITY SUES PULITZER ESTATE FOR TAX

Question Whether Collateral Tax Can Be Made Against Educational Bequests.

TWO ACTIONS ARE FILED

They Are for Assessment on Payments to Eastern Institutions, and to Editors.

Two suits involving payment of collateral inheritance tax to the Missouri State University were filed in the Probate Court, Thursday, against certain legacies under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, owner of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

One suit is for $14,400 tax on sums totaling $288,000 not added from the earnings of the Post-Dispatch for the Philharmonic Society of New York, Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York and the Columbia University School of Journalism of New York, under the Pulitzer will.

The will also provides that these institutions may each set bequests not exceeding $500,000 from time to time, which are to be paid over by the trustees of the Pulitzer estate, according to Attorney Forrest C. Donnell, who represents the Missouri State University.

If the court holds that the Missouri institution is entitled to a tax on sums already paid to the New York institutions, it will be able to collect inheritance on future payments to these institutions, Attorney Donnell contends.

The legal question in this case is whether a collateral inheritance tax can be assessed against bequests made to educational or charitable institutions. Representatives of the New York institutions contend such legacies are exempt. Counsel for the Missouri University, however, asserts that the fact that the institutions are foreign corporations precludes them from claiming such exemption.

He said that two Circuit Courts of this State had decided this question favorably to his contention. In similar cases and that a third court had decided against him. He has appealed the latter case and it will be argued in the Supreme Court in October.

Claims 5 Per Cent Tax.

The State University attorney takes the position that his client is entitled to a tax of five per cent on all payments made to the New York institutions from the earnings of the Post-Dispatch. By the terms of the will, he said, about one-half of these bequests should be paid from the net earnings of the Post-Dispatch and the remainder from the New York World.

Both suits are filed under the statute which imposes a collateral inheritance tax of 5 per cent on all legacies except those of direct heirs of the maker of the will. The State University is the beneficiary of this tax under the law.

Involves Payments to Editors.

The second suit involving tax on Pulitzer legacies concerns a provision in Mr. Pulitzer's will by which he set aside a certain number of shares of stock, the income from which was to be paid to editors and managers of his publications. Under this clause, Attorney Donnell sets forth that there has been paid to editors and managers of the Post-Dispatch between February, 1912, and July of this year a sum amounting to $187,000. Consequently, it is alleged that the State University is entitled to about $4000 tax on this payment. It is also contended that ultimately, under the terms of the will, there will be paid out under this clause a sum amounting to about $2,700,000. Attorney Donnell claims this estimate on editorial salaries of insurance companies. He said that the Pulitzer will places the estate in trust for a long period of years and that payments under this clause, by the terms of the will, are to continue during the trusteeship.

Both suits will be tried on an agreed statement of facts and it is expected will be argued before Judge Hotchkamp some time in September. The trustees of the estate are George E. Rives, J. Angus Shaw, Ralph Pulitzer, all of New York, and Attorney Frederick N. Judson of this city.

Lawyer Max Donnell said that figures submitted to him by the trustees are the basis of the amounts involved in the suits.

DYNAMITE-LIKE STICKS NEAR GAYNOR'S OFFICE

Substance Discovered Under Windows, Resembling Explosive, to Be Tested.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Six sticks of what is believed to be dynamite were found this afternoon under a window of Mayor Gaynor's suite of offices in the city hall.

Fire Commissioner Johnson, who was passing at the time, telephoned the Bureau of Combustibles and ordered one of the inspectors to come to the city hall to examine the find and determine its nature.

From a superficial examination the inspector said he thought the substance was dynamite. He took the sticks to fire headquarters for further test. They were found by the janitor of the building.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Edgar Koth, 11 years old, accidentally discharged a target rifle, killing J. L. Stanford, a shooting gallery keeper, at Venice yesterday.

"I will show you how it happened," said Martha Wilson, 14, to Wilhelmina Chislerrell, 14, daughter of a bandmaster. The rifle was loaded. Miss Chislerrell fell dead.

200 MILES OF NEW ROAD BUILT IN DAY, MAJOR'S ESTIMATE

Governor Thinks Value of 2-Days' Work in Missouri Will Exceed $1,300,000.

GOV. HODGES GIVES AID

Kansas Executive Says Hospitality Is Superior to That in His State.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 21.—Encouraged with the results of their efforts yesterday, when, according to Gov. Major's estimate, 200 miles of new roads were built, Missouri's good roads hosts started forth this morning to complete the work so well begun.

Although the number of volunteers who engaged in the campaign exceeded expectations, reports from nearly every county indicated that a larger number were wielding the picks and shovels today. In some districts farming operations were practically suspended, as the farmers decided the work of road improvement was the most important in which they could engage.

Gov. Major Elated.

Gov. Major, who with his guest, Gov. Hodges of Kansas, and others, left here on a road inspection trip to Fulton, Columbia, Ashland, and other points in Callaway and Boone counties, was elated with the results as shown by reports received from the counties of the State.

Gov. Major declared that fully $100,000 in road work was done the first day. "I do not think it an exaggeration to say that the total value of this work to roads in Missouri will exceed $1,300,000. Over $200,000 was contributed in cash and probably $100,000 in road material.

"The first of Missouri's two good road days was such a success that it exceeded our anticipations. In addition to the 200 miles of new road added to our highway system, repairs were made upon hundreds of miles of old roads. I am pleased, also, with the splendid road spirit that has been developed."

Hodges Likes Hospitality.

Gov. Hodges said that he is immensely pleased with his reception in Missouri and that he may head a similar road movement in Kansas.

"We have better roads, I think, than Missouri, but have not the Missouri hospitality, which is in a class to itself. In Kansas we have been so engrossed in making money that he have not had time to encourage the brand of hospitality that prevails in Missouri."

Gov. Major said he would attempt to make his good roads days a national movement by requesting the Governors of other states to call similar road days next year.

2500 Men and 600 Teams Working on Jackson County Roads.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 21.—Twenty-five hundred men and 600 teams are fighting the battle of good roads in Jackson County today. A part of this force is cutting weeds and brush along the highways. Other squads are putting in culverts, and others are digging drainage ditches along the roadside or trimming unsightly hedges. But most of the workers are building new roads.

Buchanan, Clay and Jasper counties and the other counties in Western Missouri are well represented in the work of road improvement.

Farmer's Wife Cuts Weeds to Show Enthusiasm for Good Roads.

LEE'S SUMMIT, Mo., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Thomas Kincaide, wife of a farmer living near here, would not accept an assignment merely to serve meals to the good roads workers in this district, because she insisted on doing some of the real work.

"I want to do something that will be an expression of my enthusiasm for this road movement," she said. "I want the overseer to provide me with a scythe."

She spent the day cutting weeds along the roadside.

Some Grundy County Farmers to Work a Third Day on Roads.

TRENTON, Mo., Aug. 21.—The cooler weather brought out a much larger delegation for work on Grundy County highways today than was on hand the first day. Practically every farmer in the county worked on the roads.

Several farmers have declared their intention of working tomorrow. Dinner was served by farmers' wives and their children carried water to the road workers.

Automobile Tax in Illinois to Be Divided Among Counties for Roads.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 21.—The new State Highway Commission today announced a preliminary estimate of proposed allotments of the State aid fund from automobile taxes for good roads which will be made in each county in Illinois that has complied with the law empowering the commission to make final allotment.

The provisional allotments are given out in order that the counties which propose to avail themselves of their share of the fund may make provision by assessing to raise a like amount in compliance with the statute.

Cook County receives the largest allotment. Between now and July 1, 1914, $42,750 will become available for the county, and between July 1, 1914, and July 1, 1915, the sum of $74,870 may be obtained.

It is estimated that the total amount to accrue from the automobile tax each year will be $400,000. The special State appropriation for the year 1914-15 will total $300,000.

WOMAN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING SAW ONLY BALL OF FIRE

Mrs. Elizabeth Steinkamp, 67, 2802 North Sarah street was able to leave her bed Thursday for the first time since the midday storm of Tuesday, when she was struck by lightning and had a marvelous escape from death.

For six hours after she was stricken Mrs. Steinkamp remained unconscious, during which period her body was rigid. For over an hour after the shock her face and the entire left side of her body were black. Injections of strychnia were resorted to in order to restore heart action to its normal condition, and for several hours her life was despaired of.

Mrs. Steinkamp was standing at the kitchen range when a ball of fire shot past her. She was holding a fork in her hand, and this or the metal on the stove, the physicians believe, attracted the lightning.

Mrs. Steinkamp says she does not know what occurred after she saw the ball of fire. She became unconscious and her children, who were at play in the yard, heard her fall. When they reached the kitchen they found their mother's body stiff, leaning against a door two feet from the stove.

The screams of the children attracted Mrs. Mary Whitworth, who lives upstairs over the Steinkamp flat, and she hurried downstairs. She summoned physicians. Three doctors worked on Mrs. Steinkamp all Tuesday afternoon to restore her to consciousness, but it was not until 6 p. m. that she opened her eyes.

When told of her experience she recalled having seen the ball of fire, but that was all she could remember.

QUEEN OF EAST SIDE MERCHANTS' CARNIVAL

MISS ZELLA COOK.

Miss Zella Cook, daughter of former Mayor Elias Cook of East St. Louis, chosen queen of the East Side Retail Merchants' Association carnival, rode in an elaborate chariot decorated in purple and gold Thursday at the head of the parade when the signal to march was given at 10 o'clock. She was accompanied by four maids of honor—Misses Catherine Sullivan, Leah Solomon, Margaret Doorley and Stella Hapsburger.

The parade was in three divisions, and was led by the drill squad of 24 members of the East St. Louis police, in charge of Acting Night Chief Ely. Mayor Chamberlin rode in an automobile at the head of the civic division, in which city officials, the fire department and city vehicle equipment took part.

Forty members of the East St. Louis Commercial Club sang "booster" songs while riding on a decorated float on which the Post-Dispatch loving cup, won by the organization in a membership contest with the Business Men's League, was displayed from a golden pedestal, surrounded by flowers.

Decorated floats representing 50 wholesale and retail merchants were in the two first divisions of the parade. Several special prizes were awarded for the finest floats in line. Crowds lined the pavements and grasped for the souvenirs thrown from the floats.

WOMAN HOPELESSLY ILL, BEGS TO BE LEFT IN FIRE

Patient Who Wanted State to Kill Her Pleads Not to Be Moved When Trapped.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Mrs. Sarah Harris, who has been paralyzed four years, and whose case is hopeless, was on the top floor of Dr. H. W. Lloyd's sanitarium when a fire threatened the building. Mrs. Harris wrote to papers a year and begged that the State end her life.

The flames were so hot that the windows of her room were cracked. She could not move, and, although there was danger the sanitarium would be set on fire, she made no outcry.

Two attendants found her and made preparations to take her away, but she begged to be permitted to stay where she was.

"This is the first chance I've had to die," she said, "please let me stay and if the room catches fire all my misery will be over."

She was taken out of danger.

The Jarr Family

By ROY L. M'CARDELL

Mr. Jarr's boss comes back to work incidentally, so does his grouch.

JOHN, the porter, was outside, shining the brass door signs. Mr. Jarr glanced at his watch and heaved a sigh of relief. He was in good time! The ordinary observer would have seen little connection between the office porter polishing the brass signs and Mr. Jarr, who was not late to his daily toil. But Mr. Jarr was experienced in the tense efficiency of commercial life in a great city.

Anybody around the office had authorized order the porter to shine the brass work, but there was only one person who could command the porter. That person was the boss, and by the way the porter rubbed and scoured Mr. Jarr knew the boss was back from his vacation and was also inaugurating some business reforms.

Johnson, the cashier, looked like a scared rabbit and then made a wild scramble for the jawing said Jan. The bookkeeper, was already hard at work preparing statements and making the loose-leaf ledgers rattle.

Mr. Jarr threw up his desk lid with a business-like bang and upset the ink over some sales slips, when suddenly he heard a buzzer, sounding and a flat hammering in the boss's private office and his name being roared from behind the partition of the same lair.

Mr. Jarr slipped into his office coat, put a pen behind his ear and grabbed up a handful of invoices, he thought indicate that although his desk might have been closed when the boss came in, he might have been out in the shipping department.

"Ah, there you are at last!" roared the boss, as Mr. Jarr glided in, calm, alert, business-like. "I guess this office must have had warning I was coming this morning. Everybody is here on time!"

"Yes sir, I mean no sir, not at all, sir!"

"Do you know how our business compares with this time last year?" the boss went on. "Do you know where this firm is going to land unless there are some live methods inaugurated here? Do you know we can't keep up if business is neglected in this way, if sales fall off as they are falling?"

"But they are 20 per cent better than last year, sir," said Mr. Jarr.

"Yes, but that was one of the worst years we ever had. We need some system here. We need some guard against the leaks. We must have cost-and-efficiency reports! I tell you, sir, I'm going to have better business methods in this establishment!"

The boss's face was purple with grouch, sunburn and Mr. Jarr suspected alcohol's artful aid.

"Yes, sir! There is going to be an upheaval in this firm!" the boss declared. "I return unexpected, and what do I find? What do I find, sir?"

Mr. Jarr could have said the boss had found everybody on the job and ahead of time. He suspected that was what

His Masterpiece.

A CERTAIN renowned ball player, whose name had been appearing in magazines over certain stories pertaining to the game, bumped into his editor a short while ago.

"Say," he said to his literary manager, "who wrote that last chunk of dope I had in your magazine?"

"Bill Blank," replied the editor.

"What's the kick?"

"Oh, no kick at all," replied the athlete. "I was only thinking that in many ways it was the best story I have ever written."—Collier's Weekly.

Hot Weather Story.

A VERY fashionable man down South stopped at a florist's one hot summer day to order a box of flowers sent to his lady love. At the same time he also purchased a design for the funeral of a friend. On the card for the box he wrote:

"Hoping this may help you to bear the heat."

The other card bore the one word, "Sympathy."

Very soon the girl telephoned: "Thank you so much for the flowers, but why did you write 'Sympathy' on the card?"—National Monthly.

Today's Beauty Recipes

By Mrs. D. Mills.

"It is an easy matter to banish objectionable half or furs from the face or neck without pain or injury to the skin if a delicate paste is used. A little powdered talcum is mixed with water to form a thick paste and applied to the hairy surface for two minutes, then removed, and with it will come every trace of hair. The skin should then be washed to remove the remaining talcum and it will be firm and free from spot or blemish."

"Summer complexion troubles will be a thing of the past if you apply daily to the face, neck and arms a mayonaisse lotion made by dissolving an original package mayonaisse in a half-pint witch hazel. This drives rapidly, imparts a velvety smoothness and healthy tint to the skin and is far superior to powder, because one application lasts an entire day and it is actually invisible when on. The mayonaisse lotion banishes the oily, 'shiny,' washed-out condition and ready dispels tan, freckles and other complexion ills without any danger of growing hair."—ADP.

His Chance. HE: The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. Don't forget that. SHE: Then you come in and rule the world a while. I'm tired.

Or a Windy Day. MOTHER: Ethel, are you saving anything for a rainy day? ETHEL: Yes, mother. I never wear my silk stockings around the house.

Stories St. Louisans Tell

A Good Reason.

F. DE DONATO says that the other evening returning home he found his 10-year-old son, Ed, playing with matches.

"You mustn't play with matches," he reprimanded him. "Just the other day a boy playing with them set fire to a house and burned up his four little brothers and sisters."

"But I can't do that," argued the youngster.

"Why can't you," inquired his father.

"Because," said the boy, "I ain't got no brothers and sisters."
